Class #3 summary

During this class we did a lot of discussion of complex or simple questions, which can help us choose when to use either. We also talked alot about Bloom's taxonomy, which I found to be really cool as I haven't heard much about. Bloom's taxonomy is also a really cool tool as it can help teachers to see where the students are in their learning as well as where the teachers are themselves. During class, we also did a number of poll.guru questions and handouts that I thought was very useful as it's hard to just talk about the topics so by adding in examples we make ourselves it can be easier. We also had our circle time discussion but I will cover that in my summary of circle time.

my symbol:

I chose these as my symbols because Bloom's taxonomy is a really important tool, as well as me just thinking the scale was cool.

Hey Girl,
I saw how you covered the first five levels of Bloom's Taxonomy on that quiz in a way that was developmentally appropriate.
I appreciate that about you.
